GENERAL INFORMATION.

Requirements for Admission.

The Student must be twelve years of age for admission to any of the College classes.

In all cases testimonials of good character must be given; students coming from another College will be required to furnish certificates of dismission.

We prefer that those who intend to graduate at this institution, should enter the Preparatory Department, rather than prepare themselves elsewhere, for an advanced standing.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must pass an examination in the studies prescribed in the Preparatory Course.

Course of Study.

The course in Latin and Greek is not as full as in many other Colleges, yet it is thought that a thorough knowledge of the authors indicated would be sufficient for the development of practical men.

An unusual amount of time is devoted to English Grammar, Arithmetic and Algebra, not more, we hope, than experience will show to be profitable.

Many students almost fail from want of thoroughness in the Primary branches. It is the purpose of the faculty to specially guard against this difficulty.

Scientific Course.

Embraces all of the Classical, Latin and Greek excepted, together with one year in French and one in German, or their equivalent in the further study of the sciences.

Preparatory Course.

Has been arranged for a double purpose—to prepare students to enter the College classes, and to qualify young ladies and gentlemen for the work of teaching in our common schools.

Any person completing this course will receive a CERTIFICATE, stating the degree of THOROUGHNESS he has attained in the studies passed over.

Penmanship and Commercial Department.

Special attention is desired to this Department. Notwithstanding Penmanship is required to be taught in all of our Common Schools, yet there is not a single institution that offers to the public special advantages for the preparation of TEACHERS for this part of their work.

Even the Normal Universities where a preparation for teaching is their special work, little attention is given to Penmanship. In the Colleges and Universities, denominational and state, the matter has, hitherto, been wholly ignored.

The result is that the chirography of the teacher is little better than the taught.

To correct what seems to be a wrong tendency in the matter, the Trustees have secured the best Pen Artist in this country, and propose to open a NORMAL PENMANSHIP DEPARTMENT.

Students entering this Department may give to it their whole attention, or such part of their time as they may desire.

A large and well ventilated room is fitted up with tables, black-board, etc., for the accommodation of this Department.

Persons not desiring to make penmanship a specialty, may receive all the instructions they desire in the daily drill required of all the students.

A Commercial Department is also connected with the College; based upon the plan of ACTUAL BUSINESS.

Members of this Department are taught the theory in connection with daily practice.

A student holding a scholarship in this department will be entitled to one year's tuition in the Literary, thus holding out every possible inducement to urge young men that intend to enter the strife of business transaction to thoroughly prepare themselves for the work.

The history of Education in the past points most conclusively to this, that the time has come when the Literary and Practical should stand side by side; when the literary man should be more practical, and the business man more literary. Hitherto an attempt has been made to abstract from our Colleges much that is practical. Odium has rested upon them because of this. The time has fully come when thinking and acting must go together; when the man of business must be the man of thought; when men must take the strength and power of thought into the real life of business transaction. On completing a full course in the Sciences of Accounts and its collateral branches, a diploma is awarded.

Department of Music.

Care has been taken to provide the best opportunities in this Department.

Lessons given upon any kind of wind or string instrument.

Several pianos are constantly engaged, and others will be provided as necessity requires.

Classes in vocal culture formed whenever desired.

German and French.

There is no extra tuition for the study of German so far as learning to read and write it. Those desiring to pursue the study of German Literature, will be charged the usual extra tuition.

Classes in French formed each term. Tuition extra.

Government.

The object of government is the order and well-being of the governed.

When this can be accomplished by mildness as certainly as by severity, the former will be preferred.

Rules and Regulations will be made as circumstances indicate their necessity. Believing that a restraint, without a demand for it, creates a necessity for additional restraint, all over government will be studiously avoided.

Young ladies boarding in the College family will be subject to such rules and regulations, as are common in institutions of this kind.

It is the experience of the past two years that those, under such restrictions, are more successful than those boarding elsewhere in the city.

A daily account of each student is kept, so that a monthly report of punctuality, class-standing and deportment, may be given to parents or guardian.

Degrees.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred on those completing the Scientific Course. The Degree of Bachelor of Arts only on those completing the Classical Course. Candidates for the Degrees are required to settle all College dues one week before commencement, and obtain a receipt from the Treasurer.

Examination.

There is an examination at the close of each term in the studies pursued during the term. The examination is rigid and impartial. No student is suffered to advance only as the Faculty and Examining Committee deem him worthy of such promotion.

Students having prepared themselves elsewhere will be required to pass a satisfactory examination before entering any of the College classes.

Religious Instruction.

Morning worship is held in College Chapel at the opening of the exercises each day, except Sabbath.

While special care is taken to avoid any denominational bias, it is the object of the Faculty to make the influence not only moral, but religious. Students will be required to attend the Lectures on Sabbath afternoon, in the College Chapel.

Boarding.

A Boarding Department is connected with the institution for the accommodation of parents who desire to place their daughters under the special supervision of the Faculty. Rooms are furnished with stove, chairs, washstand, table, bedstead, mattress, and looking-glass. Everything not enumerated in this list will be furnished by students themselves. They who damage the building or its furniture will be charged with an amount sufficient to make full repairs. Ladies intending to board in the College should bring with them towels, napkins, overshoes, umbrellas, and any silver ware they may desire to use. Ladies board in the institution at $4.00 per week.

Choice of rooms given to those first making application.

All articles of apparel must be distinctly marked with the full name of the owner.

Fuel and light will be furnished the students at the actual cost of the amount consumed. Persons engaging rooms, will be charged the usual price of boarding from the time they were to have commenced boarding until the close of the term, except in cases of protracted illness.

Parents wishing their daughters to visit home, will please make their application to the President direct, and not through the student.

No arrangement has been made for boarding gentlemen in the College building. No difficulty will be found in obtaining board, in good private families, at reasonable rates, within convenient distance of the College. Any person desiring assistance in securing a good boarding place would do well to come directly to the College.

Enquire for Quincy English and German College, on Spring street.

Recreations.

Considerable care has been taken to provide an out-door recreation. A beautiful croquet ground, supplied with a complete croqueterie, has just been completed, for the special benefit of young ladies boarding in the institution.

Library and Museum.

The College Library contains many very valuable books, kept for the benefit of the students. The Museum is small, yet it contains several hundred very fine specimens.

Literary Societies.

Two Societies have been formed—the Miltonian for the gentlemen, and the Themian for the ladies. Each have formed a nucleus for a valuable library. The young ladies deserve much credit for their energetic efforts during the past year.

Books, Stationery, etc.

Are furnished at the College Book Room for little more than wholesale prices.

An arrangement has been made so that students, after they have completed any given study, may place their books upon sale and receive for them whatever they may be worth. This, we think, will prove a great saving in purchase of books—that ever recurring expense; also produce a salutary influence in favor of care and neatness.

Location.

Quincy English and German College is located at Quincy, Illinois—a city of not less than thirty thousand inhabitants, and of acknowledged beauty—the second city in the State. The appellation given it, is in itself, the best description: “The Gem City of the West.” The College edifice is a large brick building, one hundred and thirty-two feet long, four stories high, beside the basement, semi-gothic style, of beautiful architecture, and of excellent design—large enough to accommodate from three to four hundred students.
